

Painting by Scott Nadzam

Australia

Media, Tourism, Environment and Cultural Issues

What's this program about?

Conducted in conjunction with Macquarie University in Sydney, with both Michigan State University and Macquarie University academic staff serving as program faculty, this 8-credit program will run in the summer of 2007 from mid May through late June. It will provide an overview of Australia's media and examine its role in reporting public affairs, natural resources, cultural issues and the environment; explore Australia's natural and cultural resources, their management and role in heritage and ecotourism; and assess various modes of interpretive communications. It is aimed at majors in journalism, media, natural resources management, tourism, communications, environmental sciences, social sciences and liberal arts.

There will also be an optional post-program internship for additional credit.

More details about this program can be found at <http://studyabroad.msu.edu/programs/ausmedia.html>

College sponsors: College of Communication Arts and Sciences and College of Agriculture and Natural Resources

Semester offered: Summer (mid May to late June)

Courses offered*: 400-level Journalism and CARRS (and related departments); graduate students have the option of enrolling in ACR 891 and JRN 890

Requirements: Minimum sophomore status; 2.5 GPA; essay

Program fee: $2,900 (2006)

Deadline: March 1

Contacts:

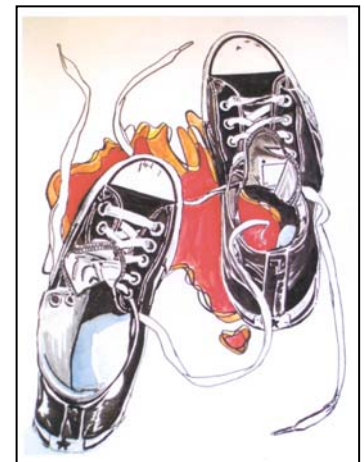

Eric Freedman
 School of Journalism
 Phone: (517) 355-4729
 E-mail: freedma5@msu.edu

Gail A. Vander Stoep
 Community, Agriculture, Recreation & Resource Studies
 Phone: (517) 432-0266
 E-mail: vanders1@msu.edu

Web: <http://studyabroad.msu.edu/programs/ausmedia.html>

*Check the program's Web page for details on courses.

Program fees are not uniform and do not cover the same expenses for all programs. Carefully check the program's Web page for what is included in your program fee. If that is still unclear, contact the Office of Study Abroad to provide you with a full explanation.

Painting by Scott Nadzam